PIANO FORTE TUNING AND REGULATING.

THE SUBSCRIBER, having engaged the services of Mr. E. T. HUNTLEY, a competent and experienced tuner, is now prepared to attend to all orders with which he may be favored. The following testimonial to Mr. Huntley's capability is from the directors of the celebrated Germania Musical Society

MILWAUKEE, March 27, 1855.

It is with much pleasure that I recommend Mr. E. T. Huntley as a first rate Piano Tuner and regulator. To say that he is an excellent tuner, would not be doing him justice, for I can without hesitation say that he is capable of tuning Pianos as near to perfection as it is possible for a Piano to be tuned; but the greatest recommendation for him is the unusual length of time which his Pianos remain in tune. I have never, either in Europe or America, seen a man whom I would so cheerfully and with so much confidence employ to tune or regulate a Piano Forte as Mr. Huntley, and as cheerfully recommend him to all who want Pianos tuned.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

In our Supreme Court yesterday, Mr. Attorney General SMITH suddenly re-appeared in the contested Governor case and modestly asked to have the suit of the People vs. Barstow dismissed. The Court will probably dispose of the motion and the case to-day.

KANSAS has elected two Free-State Senators, Gov. REEDER and Gov. LANE, to represent her in the U. S. Senate. They have both proved their fidelity to Freedom.

Our Legislature did a variety of work, yesterday. It seems likely that FRED HORN will get his $800 out of the State, and Attorney General SMITH his $2000.

Another graphic letter from our European Correspondent will be found in to-days paper. It is his first from Asia.

No telegraph report from the East yesterday.

The Contested Governorship.

Our telegraphic despatches and correspondence from Madison indicate that the crisis, in the contested Governorship, is at hand. Yesterday, Mr. Attorney General SMITH, who at first claimed exclusive control of the suit, and afterwards abandoned it to the Relator's counsel, came into Court and coolly notified their Honors, that he, the Attorney General aforesaid, dismissed the suit on the part of the State! What followed is fully set forth in our associate's letter. The act of the Attorney General is very much akin to that of a District Attorney, who, finding matters going hard with a criminal whom he was ostensibly prosecuting, should file a not. pros., to save his friend in the prisoner's box. So Gen. SMITH would withdraw the case from the Court to avert the impending judgment of ouster against his friend, the Usurping Governor.

We donbt whether this last move will either complicate the case, or delay the decision. If Mr. Attorney General desires to follow his associates, the counsel for Mr. BARSTOW, out of Court, we can see no possible objection. But he cannot take out with him the rights of the Relator, or of the People. These remain under the protection of the Court, and will, we trust and believe, be fully and promptly vindicated by their judgment.

Much excitement prevails at Madison, and not a few anticipate collision and bloodshed, when the final decree of the Supreme Court shall be pronounced. We cannot bring ourselves to believe that any set of men, in or out of office, in this State, will venture upon so desperate a throw as an appeal to force against law would be. Such an appeal would call up an instant and overwhelming rebuke from all parts of the State, and those who provoked the alternative would be the first to suffer by it. The PEOPLE will stand by the Court, sustain the Law, and put down, forcibly, if need be, the meditated treason.

FROM MADISON.

Editorial Correspondence of the Sentinel.

In Supreme Court—March 18, 10 A. M.

Present, all the Judges.

Attorney General SMITH—said that on Tuesday last a motion had been made by Bashford's counsel for judgment, by those counsel, not by the Attorney General. He now presented a paper to the Court, abandoning the case on the part of the State. His paper asserts that it is proper that the whole facts should be spread on the record, that the proceedings thus far have not disclosed any proof, unless it may be implied from the absence of the respondent. The matter has not yet been inquired into as the people have a right to demand. The Court may, by law, enter a judgment of ouster—though the Attorney General holds that it cannot go further. If a judgment should go further, he, the Attorney General, protests, "and, "by virtue of his authority, dismisses the suit, and says that he will not longer prosecute it." He says that he has no reluctance in taking this course, as in all the proceedings thus far, he has taken no part in the proceedings, &c., and has been denied by the relator authority to act for him in any manner.

CHIEF JUSTICE WHITON—Have you any remarks to submit?

ATTORNEY GENERAL—Only to produce authorities, if necessary.

JUDGE SMITH—Produce your authorities.

The Attorney General cited several authorities, briefly stating their scope, in relation to entering nolle prosequi. Several of the authorities were to the effect that an Attorney General could enter a nolle prosequi in cases of indictment.

Mr. KNOWLTON—We shall certainly object to the dismissal, as we contend that the Attorney General possesses no power to dismiss the case.

It is a proceeding to test a civil right, and o course the Attorney General cannot prejudice the right of the individual to test such a right. The great weight of authority, in English cases, is against the right of an Attorney General to discontinue a prosecution, without the consent of the Court. Even in this country, as to individuals, the cases disagree as to the right to dismiss proceedings. But, however it may be as to indictments, there is no analogy between them and proceedings by quo warranto to test the right of an individual. If so, an Attorney General could at any time prevent the relator in a case from obtaining justice. The Court said, at an early stage of this case, that it would protect the rights of all parties, and if the Court adheres to that promise, the proposition of the Attorney General could not be listened to. A member of the Court had asked the Attorney General if he objected to the counsel appearing for the relator, and he said "he had no objection whatever." He cannot now rule the relator and his Counsel out of Court, only because he anticipates a decision for the relator. The counsel of the latter have no means of anticipating a decision, and they await it, and do not expect to be turned out of Court without their consent. They only ask the rights which the laws give them.

Mr. Howe said that he thought this the saddest proceeding ever witnessed in a court of justice. He had heard intimations of this thing, but had denied it. He had—

(Here the Attorney Gen'l interrupted, saying that the counsel had better confine his remarks to the case, or he might become personal, and he (the Att'y Gen'l) would feel called upon to reply in a manner which would not be agreeable.)

Judge Howe proceeded to say that he had felt sure that if the Attorney Gen'l felt tempted to enter this dismissal, Gen. Smith would interfere to prevent. But this was not so. Mr. Howe went on to recapitulate the proceedings thus far, showing how the case had been carried on by Bashford's counsel, with the consent of the Att'y Gen'l. It was true that, on several occasions, the Att'y Gen'l had seemed to occupy a position favoring the Respondent, and now, after the Court had for a week been considering about a judgment, and expressing his opinion that a judgment may be given for the Relator, he comes in to dismiss the case! and throw the Relator out of Court, after all his labor and expense. It did seem to be trifling with the rights of the Relator.

When the motion was made for final judgment, the Court asked the Att'y Gen'l if he had anything to submit. He said he had not, and now he comes to try and dismiss the case!

The cases cited by the Att'y Gen'l are those of indictments, where the questions were of the right of the Att'y Gen'l to dismiss a case where nobody appeared, and where when a counsel was associated with an Att'y General, in a murder case, the Court said that the contest must be with the Att'y Gen'l. The other case cited was of the same nature. None of these cases bear, even remotely, upon the one before the Court.

Mr. Howe now read the law of 1855, which gives the right to individuals to their suit by quo warranto. The argument of the Att'y Gen'l must be that, he having filed the information, all the rights of the Relator are merged in him, and he can do as he pleases with them. Is that a reasonable view? Is it probable that the Legislature meant to give the Att'y Gen'l power to stop proceedings at any time? That would allow the Att'y General to stop the case at its outset, and that would be merciful to the course now proposed.

But what is meant by what the Attorney General says as to a probable "outrage on the people?" That officer supposed, the other day, that a judgment must be entered against the respondent. How does he know that any but a just judgment will be delivered? And if so, where is to be the outrage on the people? As to the rights of the people—Mr. Howe knew that the people were for justice. He presumed the Attorney General to wish to represent that feeling. The people wished the man to have the office who received the most votes; and the Attorney General must be supposed to wish so also. If the A. G. thought the respondent entitled, he might have refused the use of his name to the relator. The people have no wish that individuals should struggle through a suit to the eve of final judgment, and then be turned out of Court.

Mr. Knowlton cited certain authorities against the granting of the dismissal of the case, the cases showing a limit to the right of the Attorney General to dismiss in criminal cases.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SMITH, said, that he had intended to submit the motion without argument. But he felt called upon to say something in relation to personalities. He proceeded at some length, with considerable temper, to refer to personalities which he thought had been leveled at him. He said he had not been tempted to do anything contrary to the interests of the people. It was known that a judgment might go further than merely an ouster, and when the respondent withdraws, a judgment might be to entitle the relator. The relator has not thus far produced any proofs beyond his allegations, and the people have a right to demand an investigation as to who is the Governor. So, the people, through him, step in and say they have that right. They would not be convinced that the relator is the Governor.

JUDGE SMITH—Do you not, by the paper which you file, aver that the people have no more interest?

The Attorney General did not answer directly, but said that the case was now between the people and the relator, and lest a judgment should go against the State and be given for the relator, which he thought an outrage on the people, he moved to dismiss the case.

JUDGE HOWE—What personalities does the Attorney General refer to in relation to me?

ATTORNEY GEN'L.—The language to which I refer was that of my being "tempted" to a certain course, and some other things which passed by me as the idle wind.

JUDGE HOWE.—The Court will bear me witness that I have indulged in no personalities. My language will bear no such interpretation. No one is more conscious than myself of the difference of age between the Attorney General & myself, and, being provoked to it, I may say that no one gains more advantage than he, from that knowledge on my part.

C. J. WHITON to Mr. HOWE—Have you examined the state of the records at present?

JUDGE HOWE—I understand that the Court, if it do not dismiss the case as the Attorney General proposes, his paper should be stricken from the record.

C. J. WHITON—I mean whether, if the Attorney General leaves the case, the information requires amendment.

JUDGE SMITH—The Court said, at a former stage of the proceedings, that it had the power to protect all parties, and would do it. The Attorney General, at that time, had not done anything to prejudice the rights of the relator. If such an exigency has now arrived, as that in which the Court promised to protect those rights, do the Counsel for relator desire to amend, or change the form of the information?

To give time to counsel to examine this, the the Court adjourned to 3 P. M. W. H. W.

The Governor and the Supreme Court.

In another column will be seen the Message from Governor Barstow to the Assembly, applying them of his determination not to respect the decision of the Supreme Court. Also the opinions of his counsel advising him to adopt this course. What the result will be we cannot determine, but await with interest the decision of the Supreme Court, and the report of the Assembly Committee.—Horicon Argus.

We still hope that this question will be settled without disturbing the peace of the State, and trust, therefore, that the press and people will in the discussion of the matter evince a wise discretion, and do all in their power to bring about a peaceable solution of the difficulty.

We have no desire to shield any violator of the sanctity of the ballot-box, and if such a miscreant exist in the State, we trust some method will be adopted whereby he can be convicted and held up to the contempt and ignominy of an outraged community.—Fond du Lac Union.

The above extracts are taken from Democratic papers, which zealously supported the election of Mr. BARSTOW. Their language now leaves, no doubt, that like the News and Wisconsin of this city, they hesitate to follow the desperate lead of the Madison conspirators and defy the decision of the Supreme Court.

It is, indeed, a significant and encouraging indication that thus far the Democratic papers of the State, with few exceptions, refuse to commit themselves to the treasonable course of BARSTOW and his confederates. The special edict of the Argus, making unhesitating support of Mr. BARSTOW and resistance to the Supreme Court the sole test of Democratic orthodoxy, finds no responses among the independent press of the State.

AN INTERESTING RECORD.—The proprietors of the Madison Journal and Madison Argus announce their intention of issuing in pamphlet form the proceedings of the contested Governorship case, so soon as final judgment has been pronounced by the Court. The arguments of counsel will be revised by themselves and, with the opinions delivered by the Court, will be well worth the study of every citizen of the State.

"GONE TO TEXAS" used to be the reply to every enquiry as to what had become of a missing individual; now, "gone to Nicaragua" seems to have become a substitute. All sorts of people are constantly leaving their ancient haunts going to join Gen. Walker, and we see that even Tammany hall is suffering from such desertion.—N. Y. Express.

"The Forty" sympathize with old Tammany in this affliction; one of their own number having recently, "vamosed the ranch" under peculiarly aggravating circumstances.

ANOTHER INSURANCE CO. FAILED.—Heavy marine losses have compelled the Atlas Mutual Insurance Company of New York, to suspend payment. An injunction has been obtained against the Company by Arthur Leary, who represents some English interests. The company paid out last year for losses the large amount of near $1,000,000 in cash, and the losses since January amount to $200,000.

AN IMMENSE TRAIN.—Last Saturday evening, a passenger train on the Great Western (Canada) Railroad arrived opposite Detroit from Suspension Bridge, with twenty-three passenger coaches, all full, and fifteen baggage cars. There were three locomotives attached to the train. People are coming West in big crowds.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—We learn that a conductor of a gravel train, on the Milwaukee and Horicon Railroad, was run over by one or more cars of his train, yesterday, and both legs severed from his body. He was promptly and kindly cared for, but it is feared that his injuries are mortal. We did not learn his name.

FROM MADISON.

Editorial Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MADISON, March 17.

Well! here we are yet, at the end of the Monday of another week, and all alive, despite of wars and rumors of wars. People are beginning to get impatient at the delay of the Court, in making its decision; but I am sure that, whatever may be the cause of the delay on the part of the Judges, (and the cause is good, doubtless,) it is having an excellent effect in causing the more reasonable portion of the "Democracy" to consider their course. I may be mistaken, but I do do not believe that, at the present moment, there is a ghost of a chance of carrying any factious or desperate measure through the Assembly. There are at least a dozen Democrats who will not bow their knees at the crack of the whips—who will not fall prostrate and allow themselves to be crushed by the car of Juggernaut which the leaders propose to run out for their own especial amusement.

A rumor has been industriously circulated in the past day or two, to the effect that ex-Judge Crawford, who has recently returned from Washington, has brought with him news of sundry opinions of such legal dignitaries as Caleb Cushing, in favor of Barstow. It is the purest moonshine—no such opinions have been uttered, though I do not question that they might be had, for a sufficient consideration.

It is understood that the Senate Judiciary committee has determined to proceed with the investigation of some of the matters connected with the late election. The people will have all the facts, properly verified, before long.

Senator Hadley introduced to-day, in Senate, bills to amend the Police Code in Milwaukee—to authorize the 1st Presbyterian church to borrow money—to amend the charter of the Milwaukee and Horicon Railroad—and to incorporate the Milwaukee and Raymond Plank Road Co.

The Assembly has passed a bill repealing the law making an annual appropriation to the State Agricultural Society; the Senate committee will report against the bill.

The bill providing for the remission of certain penalties by way of forfeiture on school land payments passed this afternoon, after a long discussion. It was,—very pertinently, I thought—urged against the bill that while we had now officers who required a strict observance of the law, and expected the forfeitures, it was something like a censure upon them to go to work and remit them. However, quite a number of Senators said that they knew personally of cases where persons had been obliged to pay heavy forfeitures where the money had been in the hands of Senators, who had been waiting the leisure of the officers, to pay interest money for those persons. I doubt the policy of the law, very much.

The bill to extend the right of suffrage to colored persons, passed by a vote of 15 to 7. I hope that it may pass the Assembly, but doubts balance the hope.

In the Assembly, quite a number of bills were got along with. Among those passed was the one to pay General SMITH $8,000 for compiling the documentary history and the essay on the Rock River Canal Co.'s affairs, giving the lie to the acts of past Legislatures, and falsifying the true history of that affair most egregiously. The sum of $13,500 has already been paid for the books, and $2,700 to the historian, and now the Assembly propose to pay $8,000 more. I send you sundry abstracts of reports.

The Hospital for the Insane.

Messrs. Editors:—I notice that on motion of Mr. Speaker Hull, the Assembly of this State have laid on the table the bill for establishing the "Wisconsin Hospital for the insane." It appears to be dead, and I fear it is dead.

I have carefully read the bill and it has certainly the merit of being cautiously guarded and thoroughly matured. I do not believe a better bill for hospital construction was ever introduced into a legislative body. No bill could be presented which would more surely prevent frauds and at the same time establish a Hospital on the best plan. I am astonished at its fate. Wisconsin is now the only Northern State which has made no provision for her insane.

With an intelligent and industrious population, abounding in resources and enterprise, and rapidly taking the first rank as a State, she maintains the unenviable position of looking with reckless disregard on those of her citizens who have no hope of either freedom, or restoration to reason except in the guardianship of the State She does not care for those who cannot care for themselves. Wisconsin, Texas, Delaware, Florida and Arkansas—the only States of the Union that convict men of disease of the brain, and then punish the victims by imprisonment in the Jail and the Poor-house! How long shall our State be one of the five? How long shall we continue in shameful neglect not only of our own true interests, but of the claims of humanity?—We almost alone of all the States in Christendom? The question, who is Governor? creates an intense excitement; but the question, where are your four hundred insane brethren? receives no answer, and worse—causes no action.

The swamp land fund at Washington belong ing to this State, and an assessment of one cent on each hundred dollars of taxable property would build, furnish and fit the Hospital for the reception of patients in two years. Where is the tax-payer who would object to paying his quota? Not one, certainly, who ranks as a citizen, and has an influence over his fellow men.

The above is in substance the provision for raising the necessary funds in the bill now lying on the table in the Assembly Hall at Madison.

I am informed that there are twenty-five insane in the county of Milwaukee all imperfectly and some miserably, cared for at the expense of the county.

In addition to these it is my misfortune to know of five who are living with their friends in this city—a serious, and in two of the cases, a terrible affliction to their families and friends; and they are necessarily in a condition to make their own sufferings infinitely greater than they would be in a well regulated Hospital. There must be others here in a similar condition of whom I have no knowledge.

Must our afflicted citizens throughout the State suffer for another year, before the means of relief are even commenced? I cannot think the Legislature will adjourn without doing something toward establishing this great public charity.

The Mineral Wealth of Wisconsin.

Your correspondent when speaking of the mineral wealth of Missouri in the Sentinel of this morning might have added that Wisconsin does not fall behind that State in this respect. Our mines of copper and lead are much more extensive than those of Missouri; and we have whole ledges of iron ore in the vicinity of Lake Superior equal in quality, and exceeding in quantity, the Iron mountain of Missouri. We have other resources in our limestones, sandstones and unknown quarries of granite may exist in the interior where no one has yet extended his explorations. The railroad surveys to be extended across to Lake Superior copper and iron mines this season, will bring to light many facts concerning this almost unknown region that will add much to the prosperity of the State and show the necessity for immediate action in pushing forward some of the numerous projected lines of railroad towards that rich district. It is to be hoped for the credit of our State, that the Geological survey now in progress will be continued until our whole mineral and agricultural and manufacturing resources are ascertained—and that a report of the final results will be prepared and published. We have no fears but this will show inducements for the investment of capital in Wisconsin, at least as great as in any other State at the West. L.

RAMBLES IN EUROPE AND ASIA. NO. 65.

The ancient name and grandeur of the city—Streets of this and Constantinople compared—The Bosphorus as a cleanser—Cemeteries—The Tomb of a War Horse—The howling Dervishes and their Worship—The Hospital—Mosques—Turkish method of reckoning time—The Knicks of the Sultan.

SKUTARI, ASIA, Nov. 23, 1855.

This city is to Constantinople what Brooklyn is to New York, and contains about the same number of population. Like Constantinople, too, it was anciently built upon seven hills, and is seen to good advantage from the water. It was known, as far back as the earliest history of the Persian Monarchy, by the name of Chrysopolis or the Golden Town, from the fact of being the spot where the Persian tribute money was collected on goods passing to and from the Euxine. But some authors assert that it was named from Chryseis, the son of Agamemnon and Chryseis, who fleeing from Aegosthus, the murderer of his father, and from Clytemnestra, was here taken sick, died, and was buried The city was anciently surrounded with walls, was adorned with statuary in her public grounds, and in her harbor floated the vessels of all the commercial nations of the earth. But now, like Constantinople, ruin and decay hang heavily over it. Its walls have entirely disappeared, and its wharves have rotted on the shores. Here it was that Xenophon and his Greek auxiliaries, whom he brought back from his campaign against Cyrus, halted and rested, and for seven days disposed of their plunder. From time immemorial to the present, Skutari has always been the post station for Asiatic couriers, and the spot from which all travellers to the East commence their journey. Caravans also, to all parts of the Asiatic world, rendezvous here previous to starting. The streets are wider and cleaner than in Constantinople, for there many of them are not only almost unendurable to the sight, but extremely offensive to the smell. Were it not for the strong current of air coming down from the Black Sea to the Sea of Marmora over a body of salt water, I verily believe the plague and cholera would sweep through the whole city and not leave a human being to tell how it came so. I have seen dead dogs, dead cats, and dead rats lying along the narrow, muddy, and filthy streets, more like lanes rather, festering and frying in a hot day, and rendering the air impure and pregnant with malaria through the whole neighborhood. Once I counted five skeleton dead horses that had floated together in the Bosphorus; and all along the sides of this beautiful sheet of water the exhalations from rank carrion at times are almost unendurable. Along the shore stand the living frames of dogs leaning over their grinning jaws, for they don't like the salt water, in order to fish out anything of the kind that happens to float within their reach. But this body of water is so immense, being in some places one hundred and fifty feet deep and flowing in many parts of the Bosphorus at the rapid rate of eight miles an hour, it acts together with the winds to carry off this putrid mass of matter both in the air and water, and thus preserves the health of the city, though at times the plague and cholera sets in and makes frightful havoc—frequently decimating it in numbers.

Throughout the city are seen extensive cemeteries. These are known by the great number cypresses which are found in all the Turkish burial grounds. No tree seems to be more appropriate for the last and final resting spot for the dead than the cypress. It is always green, typical of our memory for the departed; ever pointing upward, where we hope to be reunited; and ever sighing as the breeze of Heaven bends its delicate top, reminding us that our days too are numbered, and that sooner or later, not long at furthest, we too shall be called to pass through the dark valley shaded by death Pilgrim of earth, whether at the fireside of your homes with all that is dear in this world in love and affect on clustering around you, or upon the restless billows rolling below you and the wild hurricane above, or upon the parched desert with the sand for your pillow and the sky above for your covering, are you ready for this last, great, and final journey?

My first idea was when I saw for the first time one of these vast fields of the dead, that it was a new clearing, where the timber was very thick, and the stumps all left standing. On approaching nearer, I saw that what struck me first as stumps, were stones erected at some period to the memory of the departed. This was in Pera, and there are hundreds of acres in the very heart of the city thus occupied. The graves themselves are as thick as they can be from the appearance of the stones, and without the least regard to arrangement or order. The dead are generally buried without coffins in very shallow graves, and few or no mounds are seen to denote the exact spot. In these cemeteries dogs burrow, large bats and owls are seen flying around at dark, and large rats are observed in every direction, whetting their tusks. I have no doubt that often the dogs, and always the rats prey upon the bodies soon after interment. There are no fences or any improvements of the grounds except the trees, which were set out many generations since and some of them have obtained an immense size.

The oldest cemetery is out of the city, near the seven towers, a walk of some three miles, which I visited; but I found the same characteristics there as in all: a countless number of stones which were standing in every possible shape, and many of them broke off and others lying around; numerous cypresses, a great want of order, and no improvements or fresh memorials of the living, such as new flowers, or fresh water, as seen in the cemeteries of most of the European cities.

But in the burying grounds at Skutari there are some few monuments, and not quite that appearance of neglect that distinguishes, that I shall enter. It is of immense size, and according to the best authority, contains the remains of more than twenty millions of human beings. Owing to a popular superstition, or a well grounded fear, many of those who die on the European side, are brought here for interment, thinking that possibly that portion of the Ottoman empire may fall into the hands of the Christians; and also believing Asia, from whence their religion and race sprang, to be consecrated ground.

The Sultans and the royal family are buried in small cemeteries, attached to the mosques, and as a general thing these vast number of tenements of the dead are from the ranks of the common people. None are too poor not to have a grave stone at his death. They are usually of plain white marble which soon looks old and dirty. Those of the males are distinguished by that of the turban, while those of the females have simply a rosebranch. These stones are about the usual height with us, but are nearly round, and many of them not larger than the size of a small fence post. The stones are many of them painted blue around the upper portions and have inscriptions on them in Arabic, that being the Alphabet used in the Turkish language. In the cemeteries of the Armenians are found the plantanes, mulberry and terebinth, or turpentine trees. On the tombs, some of which are very fine, are inscriptions recording the names of the deceased, and devices rudely carved, representing his profession and manner of death.

I should judge the Moslem had but little respect for these places so sacred and dear to the Christian. One Sabbath, while I was passing on the Bosphorus, I saw a number of groupes of men quite still sitting among the stones, and passing them I saw they were all quietly engaged in playing cards. On those at Pera I have seen beggars and gipsies take up their quarters, and in this large one at Skutari there are several shops and two or three coffee establishments. Near the latter I have frequently seen the Turk leaning up his chair against a grave stone and meditatively sip his coffee and smoke his tahibouk. In the burying ground there is one tomb that, generally attracts the attention of travellers—it is that of the celebrated and favorite war horse of Sultan Mahmoud. It consists of an open canopy, some thirty feet high, resting on six marble columns. The small stones under the canopy, one at each extremity of the animal, are some ten feet apart.

FROM WISCONSIN.—We have private information from Madison, indicating that Barstow is determined to try what virtue there is in muskets, in the event of the decision of the Supreme Court proving adverse to his fraudulent claim to the Governorship. It is said that he is furbishing all the old State arms about the Capitol, and that his friends are receiving rifles from other parts of the State. This information is confirmed by the Wisconsin papers; but no authority supposes that anything more than the game of "bluff" is intended, though it is on all sides admitted that his desperation may drive him to the shedding of blood. Among the people, outside of the band of desperadoes who sustain him, there is but one opinion, and that is, that the Court must and shall be sustained—at whatever cost, be its decision what it may. The sentiment is so unanimous that resistance to it would be madness. If the Court do decree, Barstow will surely go out!—Chicago Tribune.

The Great Earthquake at Japan.

The following additional details of this terrible calamity prove it to have been even more disastrous than the first report made it. The news is taken from the San Francisco papers, which also chronicle a severe shock in that city, happily unattended with loss of life, though doing serious damage to many stone and brick buildings

On the 11th of November, at 10 o'clock P. M, a violent earthquake occurred at Jeddo, which destroyed one hundred thousand dwellings, fifty four temples, and thirty thousand inhabitants.—Fire broke out at the same time in thirty different parts of the city. The earth opened and closed over the ruins of buildings, with their inhabitants. The shock was severe at Simoda. Although the distance from Jeddo to Simoda is but sixty miles, it appears that no official account of the earthquake had been received at the latter place at the time of the sailing of the schooner Page, December 10. The news was received though the Dutch interpreter. The Japanese seem to attach but little importance to the catastrophe. The inhabitants of the portion of the city destroyed was forewarned of the catastrophe and many of them escaped. The buildings of Jeddo are chiefly of one story and constructed of very light material. The temples of worship, however, are lofty and in some instances are constructed of heavy masonry.

Lake Navigation.

As some considerable interest is felt in the opening of navigation, the following will prove of decided interest:

1820—Lake Erie was so far opened that steamers commenced their trips at the west end of the lake on March 12th, and on the 11th of April was opened entirely.

1840—The lake was open from this city on April 24th.

1841—On April 13th the Gen Wayne cleared from this port, and got through to Detroit

1842—Mar. 10th, the steamer Gen. Scott arrived here from Detroit.

1843—The first boat through to Detroit from this city, was the steamer Columbus

1845—The United States, Capt. Whittaker, left here January 2nd, and arrived at Detroit on the 4th.

1846—The steamer United States, Captain H. Whittaker, left here, got fast in the ice, broke her wheels so badly as to be obliged to return for repairs. She left again, April 1st, and reached Detroit April 6th, being the first through.

1847—The United States, Capt. Belden, left here about the middle of April—first out—about ten miles out met the steamer Great Western, frozen in and out of wood. The States got through to Detroit.

1848—The United States, Capt. C. Whittaker, left here Feb. 14th, and got through to Detroit, after a 14 days' passage. She returned immediately, and on the down trip was frozen in at Erie. The lake was again closed for three or four weeks. The United States arrived here early in April.

1849—On March 29th, the Sultana came down from Detroit, and laid under Point Albino.—April 2nd, she arrived at Black Rock.

1850—The steamer Hendrick Hudson, Capt. Imson, left here on the evening of January 20th, and made a trip to Cleveland, reaching there the next afternoon. She returned to this port, and on her second trip up got frozen in at Erie. The lake then closed, and remained so till early in March; when boats made regular trips between Detroit and Silver Creek and to this city the third week of that month.

1852—The Keystone State, from Detroit, arrived here April 20th.

1853.—The steamer Mayflower, from Detroit, arrived here April 4th.—first through.

1854—The propeller New England went out of this port April 12.

1855—The steamer Keystone State went out April 22d and returned; left again on the 23d via the North Shore.—Buffalo Com. Advertiser

KANSAS MEETING IN ALBANY.—At a Kansas meeting in Albany, on Thursday evening last the most determined spirit was manifested in the addresses and resolutions and in the amount of money given in aid of the Free State cause; latter amounted to four thousand nine hundred and forty dollars. A State Central Committee for Kansas was appointed, and in the list we see the names of some of the best men in the State.

EXPRESS ROBBERS.—King and Ayer, charged with robbing the Express Company of 50,000 in gold in transitu between Dubuque and New York, are to be sent from Buffalo to Michigan on a requisition from Gov. Bingham of that State.

☞ The Free Democrat of last evening says that the article which we copied from the Pittsburgh Despatch, on the contested Governorship, appeared originally in the first named paper, to which therefore the credit properly belongs.

PERSONAL.—Our old townsman, W. J. Whaling, Esq., as will be seen by a notice of the Commercial Insurance Company, of Milwaukee, has been re-elected President and Director. The acquaintances and friends of Mr. Whaling, in Keesville, are highly gratified at his success, and congratulate the company on having secured the services of a gentleman fully qualified for the responsible station to which he has been elected.—Keeseville N. Y. Republican.

EVERY MAN TO HIS POST.—The law-abiding citizens of every town in the State should immediately hold meetings, and denounce the treason that threatens us. Speak out, fellow-citizens, and ere dawn every man who is engaged in stimulating the infuriate and sanguinary spirit of mobocracy. Our Courts must be sustained, in the proper exercise of their duties, or we shall see a long list of evils. Beat the Drums, and call yourselves together, and speak out.—Madison Patriot—Monday.

GEORGIAN BAY AND OTTAWA SHIP CANAL.—The survey of the proposed ship canal to connect the Western lakes with the tide-waters of the St. Lawrence by the Ottawa River, has been ordered by vote of the Canadian Legislature.

The preliminary survey for the Georgian Bay and Ontario Ship Canal has been completed, and a report as to the practicability of the route, cost of the work, &c., may be expected in a few weeks.

THE LA CROSSE RAILROAD.—The extreme severity of the weather, together with the immense amount of business being done on this road, has prevented the builders from completing it as fast as was anticipated, though the passenger train will commence running to Smith's Corners, six miles from this place to day, and will probably get here in a short time.—Beaver Dam Republican, March 15.

☞ There are quite a large number of muskets in this part of the State, very ready to go to Madison at any time; but their owners propose going along with them for the purpose of aiding in ridding the State of a usurping Governor.—Fond du Lac Herald.

P. O. APPOINTMENT.—We understand that Mr. ALTENHOFEN has been appointed Post Master at Kewaskum, Washington County.

Alexander Le Rose was tried and acquitted of assault and battery upon John Savoir.

L. J. McCracken, for being drunk, was fined $1,00.

You Can't Sell Sarah.—A colored man named William Jefferson was brought in charged with disorderly conduct. The evidence showed that the defendant had been forbidden the house of the complainant; that he went there to see "Sarah;" the wife of complainant told him he must not come in, as he had been forbidden to come to the house at all; defendant wanted to see "Sarah" and was bound to go in; the wife of complainant took up a stick to keep defendant out, the latter retreated and raised a hatchet, he left the house and afterwards pushed the door open. After this, defendant saw complainant, and told him he ought to keep that —— out of his house; a scuffle ensued, and complainant was cut on his head, the defendant having a pocket knife in his hand, and complainant was armed with a pair of tongs, and during the battle between the cutlery and the fire iron, the wound was received, in a room which complainant was sweeping out. It appeared that Mr. Jefferson, who has figured before in the Police Court, was an unacceptable suitor, and that "Sarah" had expressed her intention of not again receiving his addresses.

The Court fined the defendant $5,00 and costs, when the old query as to the taxation of costs, fees being claimed for five witnesses, but three had testified, the City Attorney claiming that all should be taxed: the matter was settled at last, upon the fine and costs being taxed at $7,47

Stealing Stove Wood.—Two men, named Frederick Pelton and Frederick Haker, were arrested and brought into Court by Policeman Kessler, charged with stealing a quantity of stove wood, the property of Colonel Sawyer. They were both found guilty, and each fined $10,00 and costs, amounting to $18,87 each.

Stealing From the Person.—A man named Henry Bader was arrested by Policeman Bensler, charged with stealing a pocket book, containing a check upon the Milwaukee Bank for $40, drawn by Joseph Cordes in favor of John Weller, and being the property of said Weller. The theft was charged to have been committed on the 17th March, while the complainant was asleep on a settee, in the bar room of the Farmers' Home.

Defendant was arrested by Policeman Bensler, and a large number of keys found upon him, but no pocket book or check. The defendant was committed for trial, in default of $500 bail

Fire Department Election.—The Members of our Milwaukee Fire Department assembled again, at 1 o'clock P. M. yesterday, to choose their officers for the ensuing year. The first ballot for Chief Engineer resulted, as follows:

John C. Goodrich	288 votes.
D Shultz	157 " "
C Harrison	31 " "
Whole no: cast	471

Necessary to a choice 236.

Mr. Goodrich lacked but three votes of a majority of all cast, whereupon Mr. Shultz, in a brief and manly speech, withdrew his name as a candidate and expressed the hope that all his friends would turn in and vote for Mr. Goodrich. On motion of J. C. Starkweather, Foreman of the Hose Company, John C. Goodrich was then declared elected Chief Engineer by acclamation.

The following additional officers were next elected, without opposition.

First Assistant Engineer.	John Lowther, of No: 1.
Second Do.	Henry Verrina, of No: 3
Third do.	Elmer Brooks, of No 4.

Fire Wardens.

1st Ward.	N. Ludwig, W. H. Holland.
2nd Ward.	A. J. Langworthy, H. Moye.
3d Ward.	F. Davlin, T. Riley.
4th Ward.	P. B. Hill, Caleb Harrison.
5th Ward.	August Meyer, Emil Schrider.
6th Ward.	L. Houser, F. H. Greenleaf.
7th Ward.	R. F. Jacks, Lewis Fuchs.

The selections are excellent ones and can hardly fail to give general satisfaction.

Immediately after the election, a band of music was procured by Mr. Shultz and some of the Members of No: 2 and Hook and Ladder Company; an impromptu carriage made of No. One's new and elegant machine; and in this vehicle, escorted by the Foremen of the different Companies, and drawn by two or three hundred willing hands, Mr. Goodrich and his worthy competitor, Mr. Shultz, made the tour of the street s. And then, with repeated cheers for their new officers and the usual interchange of courtesies between the several Companies, the Department adjourned, in high good humor.

Waukesha Marble.—A very handsome specimen of this fine building stone may be seen in the Editors Room, at the Sentinel Office. The proprietors are now prepared to furnish stone to order. Our builders will do well to take a look at it. Mr. Daniels, Cashier of the Waukesha Co. Bank, is one of the owners of the quarry.

Hurrying Up.—The Lake Shore Rail Road last evening brought us New York papers of Friday evening. This is quite an improvement. In a few days we hope to get our New York papers through in 30 hours by this route.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THIS is to certify, that in consideration of the many misfortunes which have attended me in the erection of my Saw Mill, at Madison, in the town of Oconomowoc, Waukesha County, I deem it proper and in justice to say, that the troubles arising in the starting of my Mill, did not lay in the fault of the machinery or water wheel, procured by L. D. Goodwin, and manufactured by Decker & Seville, but from other causes, and I do most cheerfully recommend said Mr. Goodwin, to the Milling community, as being the best wheel now in use, for driving any kind of machinery, and that it has fully come up to all the recommendations given to it. I shall take great pleasure in showing my Mill to any one desirous of using the best water wheel in the State. In conclusion I would say to all parties building Mills, to profit by my experience, and employ none but good, honest, steady and efficient Millwrights, as I have to my sorrow.

I HAVE GREAT BARGAINS in Real Estate at present, owing to the tightness of the money market, which effects the interests men just as a thunder storm frightens old women to run and get into a feather bed to be protected from being hit. This will all be over in a few weeks; there is as much money as ever! But the weather continues cold, the price of grain is at a stand, and the prospect of a war with Russia at Madison will go the ways of all flesh, as well it did. Ye who have common sense and nerve, take advantage of Fanaticism, for property will be fifty per cent. higher in sixty days. It cannot be otherwise. Only 12 per cent of Milwaukee is devoted to have and will have, one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants in five or six years. I cannot be otherwise, when we have ten different Railroads centering here. The property I have for sale will be sold on easy terms. CALEB WALL,

Challenge Safes,

MANUFACTURED BY

HORNBACH & WAGNER, Milwaukee, Wis.

WE ARE NOW MANUFACTURING all sizes of these favorably known Safes, a specimen of which was recently subjected to a severe test by fire, and in the language of the Committee appointed on the occasion, "a severer one than ever before was given in this city. (See Report of the Committee below.)

This being certainly the most reliable Safe in this market, it cannot be need of this article will find it to their interest to examine our stock before buying elsewhere. All Safes provided with the best of locks, both powder and burglar proof. Prices moderate.

Agent for the sale of the Challenge Safe is

Trial of the Challenge Safe.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

We, the undersigned, citizens of this City, having acted as a Committee on the trial of one of the Challenge Safes manufactured by Hornbach & Wagner, of this city, yesterday afternoon, certify by this, that said Safe was placed on four small brick layers, twenty inches from the ground, surrounded by a regular wall about three feet diameter, from the Safe, and reaching more than a foot above it, and covered from all sides as well as from top and bottom by wood, thus filling the whole space between the Safe and the wall and some way upwards, with just four cords of wood. We having inspected the book-, papers and bank bills that were placed in the Safe, and set to the door of wood, and owing to a quantity of turpentine which had been poured on the wood-pile, it was in a short time all in a blaze. The flames did considerable roaring for an hour and a half around, above and below the Safe, melting off a solid brass knob of an inch and seven-eighths in thickness, and bringing the Safe to a red-hot heat, when we the Committee, considering this a fully satisfactory trial, and one that a safe is unusually subjected to in case of conflagration, concluded to let an enemy play on it. This was quickly brought in readiness, the stream of water being directed against the Safe, and after it had thus been cooled off and the flames extinguished, to admit of approach, it was tried to be opened, which after some little time was effected, when in our presence the Safe was opened, and to the astonishment of all persons present, the articles deposited inside, including $15 in bank notes belonging to Mr. Illsley, were found uninjured by fire, and only some of them slightly damped by the steam created by extinguishing the flames.

Fully convinced that the test said Safe was subjected to was a fully satisfactory one, and much severer than any ever before given in this city, we take the opportunity of recommending the Challenge Safes of Hornbach & Wagner to all who may stand in need of a safe-guard for their books, papers and other valuables, as a perfect security against all the depredations of fire.

CHAS. PREUSSER,

TAKES PLEASURE in announcing to his friends and customers, and the Public generally, that he has removed to his new and elegant Store, with the increasing business, on the corner of East Water and Mason Streets, opposite the Walker House and Post Office. Where he is receiving almost daily additions to his large stock of in fact of everything usually to be found in a well assorted business of this kind.

As his stock is all new, of the latest and most fashionable styles, purchased direct from manufacturers and importers, and will be sold at a very small advance, he flatters himself that both Prices and Goods will give general satisfaction.

The Repairing of Watches and Jewelry will be as heretofore under my personal superintendence, and I have enough help enough to do all work with despatch. Thankful for the kind patronage, so liberally bestowed upon me during the past fifteen years by the Milwaukee Public, my friends and customers may be assured that no effort of mine will be wanting, to merit a continuance of the same.

THIS COMPANY offers unrivalled facilities for the insurance of Buildings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered are security beyond the reach of circumstances, as the real estate insured is by law bound for the assessment made to cover losses beyond the power of evasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one vote. The cost of insurance does not exceed one-third as much as in Stock Companies, saving nothing of the increased security and the incomparable ease with which losses are settled. During the last five years, this Company have issued 2650 Policies, and made but three assessments, at a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the dollar.—Its business is principally confined to the State.

They continue to manufacture FLOUR and SAW MILL GEARING, and STEAM ENGINES, on the most approved principle.

They have always on hand a large stock of BRASS CASTINGS, such as GRINDING CYLINDER CocKS, OIL CUPS AND COCKS, and STEAM WHISTLES.
